

Please join us for a Family Night of Spaghetti and Stories

When: Friday, October 23, 2015 5:30-7:30 PM

Where: Butlerville Primary

Cost: $4.00 per person and children under 5 eat free!

Dinner will include spaghetti and homemade meat sauce, salad, bread sticks, a drink, and cookies.

Stories about Johnny Appleseed will be provided by Rick Sowash, a local storyteller and composer.

Please follow the link, www.sowash.com, to read more about Rick. His books will be for sale that evening if you are interested in reading more of his work.

One of the most beloved folk heroes in history, Johnny Appleseed transformed the American frontier. He planted the apple trees that fed and sheltered the early settlers of our nation's heartland. Even more, he sowed seeds of kindness as he traveled, spreading a message of hope and encouragement that shaped the lives of generations of pioneers. Did Johnny Appleseed really go barefoot or wear a pot on his head? Learn the answer to these questions and more as host Rick Sowash takes us on an amazing adventure through the life and times of this American legend. From stories, poems, and tall tales to a special visit to the Johnny Appleseed Museum, children and adults alike will enjoy this entertaining look at a true, wholesome hero!

We would appreciate it if you would return this reservation so we can plan for the number of dinners. Payment can be made that night or in advance.
